Subject: Microsoft Settlement

I fully support the proposed settlement between Microsoft and the DOJ.

Despite months of testimony and years of legal wrangling, no one has ever given any significant evidence of any consumer harm as a result of Microsoft's actions and behaviors.

Microsoft's Windows operating system including the Internet Explorer browser is far and away the most user friendly, functional, and highest value operating system available.

By building the browser functionality into the operating system (both as a user-level feature like IE and as the MSHTML components for ISVs to use), Microsoft has provided a level of functionality far beyond anything any other vendor has delivered.

I think settling this case is the best way for the software industry to move forward, competing in the market instead of in the courts.

Sincerely,
